

Danny Villalpando

Biography

Danny has been performing stand up comedy for over ten years. Working as a clean entertainer, he's had the opportunity to work for many corporate events, charity organizations, and as of the past few years, has had the privilege of working worldwide with the USO and Comic's on Duty. His comedy has taken him such places as Japan, Singapore, Afghanistan, Panama, Honduras, Greenland, Iraq, Italy, and Greece.... just to name a few!

In addition to headlining comedy clubs across the United States, Danny has also performed on television a number of seventeen times. He's been seen on NBC's Friday Night as well as The Latino Faugh Festival and Comedy Central.

Most of Danny's comedy is based on his life experiences. His comedy has been described as the type of act you could do anywhere. From a bar, too corporate, it's just funny!
